

RECYCLE USED GARMENTS HERE

Why throw away what others really need?

By returning your used compression garments, you are giving someone else so much more. In most developing countries, Lymphoedema patients have no access to garments or specialized treatment. In many, the social taboo of the symptoms leave them ostracized, powerless to improve their fate.

We're changing that. Organizations that have collaborated with LIHDA have seen real, positive change, like fewer returning patients and a shift in spend to Lymphoedema programs, not to mention a better quality of life for patients and practitioners.

Every garment has a story to tell. What will yours' be?

Attach your name and email address to your garment and we'll do our best to connect you with its unique story and that of the patient who receives it. Post your story on Facebook and follow others' too.

Learn more at lihda.org or join us on Facebook.

